Career Services is excited to announce Student Employment Appreciation Week, April 13-17, 2020. Setting aside a special week each year to honor student employees is the perfect opportunity to show your appreciation. Colleges and universities across the country will also be recognizing the importance of their student employees during this same week.

Recognize an outstanding student(s) within your department by nominating them for Student Employee of the Year. Nominations will open on January 2, 2020, and will close on February 19, 2020. This timeline allows Career Services to put forth the USU Student Employee of the Year Winner for further national recognition. The nomination form is simple and easy to fill out; please take a few minutes to nominate a student employee(s) who makes a significant contribution to your department. Awards and prizes will be presented to the nominees and winner at an Awards Recognition Reception during the Student Employment Appreciation Week.

The team at Career Services encourages you to nominate one or more of your outstanding student employees.
